

FTTH Council America Announces its Board of Directors for 2017

(WASHINGTON, DC) - The Fiber to the Home (FTTH) Council Americas, a non-profit organization of more than 250 companies and organizations dedicated to expanding the availability of ultra high speed broadband, has elected three industry executives to its Board of Directors for 2017.

The Council elected Kevin Morgan, Chief Marketing Officer, Clearfield Communications and reelected Joanne Hovis, President/CEO of CTC Technology & Energy as well as John George, Director, Solutions and Professional Services, OFS to three-year terms on the nine-member board.

Continuing on the board will be Gary Bolton, VP of Global Marketing, ADTRAN, Mike Hill President and CEO of On Trac, Inc., Scott Jackson, Business Development Manager – Smart Grid, Graybar, Gregg Logan, Vice President of Engineering, Telapex (corporate parent of the C Spire Companies), Ben Lovins, SVP of the Telecommunications Division, Jackson Energy Authority, and Robert Murrie, Chief Marketing Officer, ETI Software Solutions.

Robert Murrie will serve as Chairman, Scott Jackson as Vice Chairman, Mike Hill as Treasurer, and Gregg Logan as Secretary.

About the FTTH Council Americas

Now in its 16th year, the Fiber to the Home (FTTH) Council is a non-profit association consisting of companies and organizations that deliver video, Internet and/or voice services over high-bandwidth, next-generation, direct fiber optic connections - as well as those involved in planning and building FTTH networks. Its mission is to accelerate deployment of all-fiber access networks by demonstrating how fiber-enabled applications and solutions create value for service providers and their customers, promote economic development and enhance quality of life.

More information about the Council can be found at www.ftthcouncil.org.

Media contact: Ellen Satterwhite esatterwhite@glenechogroup.com